Announcement for 1909. The last year has been one fraught with many events which have left their prints upon the sands of time. The passing of a money panic, the depreciation of stocks and bonds, the curtailment of business enterprise and other evidences of a disturbed condition of the great public mind. It has also witnessed the election of a president of the United States, and the many omens of returning prosperity in all commercial channels. And while all this panorama has been passing before us the farmer has gone triumphantly onward, enjoying the peace of mind of the favored few. No class of people has suffered less from the effects of the panic than the farmers. Some people do not yet own a farm of their own—these are the ones we are much interested in. And some people own farms and want to dispose of them. You have our sympathy, too. And if you will come in and list your farms with us we will do our best to sell you out, root and branch. Yours for business, MANNING & DALE, Lutesville, Mo.
